Justification suggests a B or better in prerequisite courses (maybe just a hypothetical?), but earlier in the form the grade for prerequisites is B-. Unclear. The course equivalencies suggest that if a student does the internship in one area and learns that another area would be a better fit, then that student has only one internship opportunity in the new major. Correct?

Same questions as FNAN 492. Also notices conflicting language on course repeats: "May be used as elective credit, but may not be repeated" seems to conflict with: "Repeatable: May be repeated within degree (RD) Max Allowable Credits: 6."

CAART agreement? Seems like a proliferation of advising/transition services, rather than a mainstreaming/collaborative approach
